It is well known that on several occasions Yancey had dodged the question whether in his opinion the election of Lincoln would justify the secession of the Southern States, but in New York it was evidently the determination of "the boys" to make him answer. The result was a complete backing down and an admission that the South CANNOT SECEDE, even if the South desires it. The following scene occurred:

Mr. Yancey remarked—I am asked, and have been asked before, whether I consider that the election of Lincoln would be a just cause for the secession of the Southern States? That is a matter to come after the ballot box. [Cheers and decisive laughter, and cries of "Answer the question."] Be quiet, gentlemen. Hear me, hear me. [Great excitement and tumult—cries of "Order, order" from the platform.] Don't be impatient, gentlemen. [Increasing din order.] Don't be impatient, and above all things, keep your temper. [Laughter and applause.] This is not the time to fight, certainly. [Laughter.] This is the time to vote and to consider how to vote.

A Voice—Let us have an answer to the question.

Mr. Yancey—You are impatient, my friend. What is the matter with you?

An excited individual on the platform —"Put him out."

Mr. Yancey—If gentlemen are so desirous of knowing my opinions, they ought to abide by my decisions when they are uttered. [Cheers.] This thing of asking advice of a man, and then not taking his advice, is a monstrous poor way of getting along. Now, I am going to say this about it. This question that is put to me is a speculation on the future. It is what I consider would happen in the event of something else happening. I hope to God that that occasion will never happen, and that the speculation will never come to hand. [Applause.] I am no candidate for the Presidency, my friends who wrote these question, though some of you have thought so, judging from the manner in which you have treated me and Mr. Breckinridge. I am no candidate for any office, and I do not want your vote. But I would like to advise with you and get you to vote for a good man—for a man, I do not care who it is, excepting one of the irrepressible conflict men. [Uproarious applause.] In the first place there is no such thing as the South seceding. I do not know how she would go about it. [Cries of "Good," and loud cheers.] There is such a thing as a State seceding; but the South seceding is a thing which I cannot comprehend. I do know how the South would go about it. I do not think it could ever happen; and, therefore, I have got no answer to give as to what the South would do.

The speaker subsequently declared that he would abide by the action of Alabama in the case of Lincoln's election.

Western Tract Convention.

The Second Annual meeting of the Western Tract Society was held in the First Baptist Church, at Chicago, on Wednesday last.

The first annual report of the "United Western Tract Agency," dated "Office and Depository, 51 La Salle street, Chicago, Illinois, Oct. 1st, 1860," was presented and read. It is a very voluminous document.—It commences by recapitulating the state of feeling which led to the organization of this Agency—which was a wide spread and increasing dissatisfaction with the position and policy of the managers of the American Tract Society, caused by the exclusion of Anti-Slavery truth from its publications.—This feeling led to the formation of the American Reform Tract and Book Society of Boston to its original, independent and national position.

But these Societies were not fully meeting the wants of the Western field. There was a belief throughout the West that some plan should be devised to secure unity and efficiency of co-operation.

The report then goes on to recapitulate the preliminary steps taken by the Congregational General Association of Illinois, in May, 1859, toward this end, and the call for the Tract Convention of the West, which was held in this city on the 18th of October, 1859. The proceedings of that Convention were published in our columns at the time, and need not be here recapitulated. This Convention appointed a committee to establish this Agency, and to call the presen Convention.

This committee consisted of Philo Carpenter, Rev. Robt. Patterson, Rev. J. M. Ferris, Rev. S. C. Bartlett, Rev. A. J. Joslyn, Rev. Samuel Wolcott, Tuthill King, J. K. Pollard, Col. Henry Smith.

The whole amount of collections aside from what has been paid directly to the Societies at Boston and Cincinnati, has been as follows:

In Illinois,	$1,164 44
In Wisconsin,	220 05
In Michigan,	109 16
In Ohio,	2 59
In all,	$1,180 30

Pledges have also been made of $243 26. Of the amount collected $42 36, was designated for the Boston Society, and $202 92, for the Cincinnati Society.

Census of Wisconsin.

Fire at Toledo.

TOLEDO, Oct. 18—3 P. M.

About 2 o'clock this morning, a fire broke out near the head of Summer street, in the bakery of M. C. Wertz & Son, which consumed some eighteen buildings in the square bounded by Monroe, Summit and Perry sts., clearing half the square—buildings mostly wood. Loss $25,000 to $35,000, about one-third covered by insurance.

Billinghurst at Mayville.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

MAYVILLE, Oct. 17, '60.

Hon. CHARLES BILLINGHURST addressed the Republicans of this place and vicinity last evening, on the political topics of the day. He was met at the American House by the Mayville and Kekoskee Wide Awakes and escorted to Friend's Hall, where he delivered one of the best political speeches which we ever had the pleasure of listening to. Never before have we heard DOUGLAS' "great principle" shown up in a more ridiculous light. He made it so plain, that the smallest boy present could but understand it. Mr. B. spoke disrespectfully of no political opponent; but riddled their weak-backed principles as every speaker ought to do.

Mr. B. is a logical, sound speaker, and is doing good work in the Old Third for the Homestead, Anti-K. N. Republican party.

It is believed by all reflecting men, that "Our LARRABEE" will be excused from serving his pro-slavery K. N. friends of the South for the next two years. The Germans are bound to defeat him. O. K.

Our Special Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.

THE TROUBLED WATERS OF DOUGLAS DEMOCRACY.

The Democracy are greatly troubled at the aspect of things generally, especially that branch of the party who have stuck to Mr. Douglas with so much tenacity. Gov. Letcher has been here, and is cursing ferociously at the condition of affairs, and lamenting his stupidity in linking his fortunes to those of Stephen A. Douglas.

The Little Giant is now universally regarded as played out entirely, and his pretensions are absolutely derided by those who once were wont to pay him respect.—Thousands who swore by him in the heyday of his prosperity, since the recent Northern elections have given him the cold shoulder, and gone over, body and breeches, to Breckinridge.

THE CONTEST LIES BETWEEN LINCOLN AND BRECKINRIDGE.

The fight now will be entirely between the latter and Lincoln—in which contest Lincoln must, if the signs of the times are to be regarded, come off victorious. I am unable myself to see any other result, and think the odds at betting should be put to 50 on such an event.

FEELING AT THE SOUTH.

In the extreme South a deep feeling of exasperation prevails, which, I think, however, may be effectually smoothed down by the conservative policy which Lincoln can inaugurate. The course of Speaker Pennington, who at first was violently assailed by Southern ultras, in the end gave satisfaction to everybody, and disarmed resentments.

Mr. Lincoln can achieve a similar desirable result, by the exercise of the same prudence and discretion. Should the Republicans confine themselves simply to the restriction of Slavery from Territories now free, I believe many Southern men would gladly unite with them upon other measures in which both parties have a common interest. At all events I do not believe the inauguration of Lincoln will be attempted to be resisted, as has been threatened; and I believe that the South, before proceeding to extremities, will at least await what it may regard as an overt act.

A CABINET MINISTER ON THE STUMP.

Gov. Cobb has gone to Georgia, nominally on private business, but, as I learn, to stump the State for Breckinridge.

THE PROSPECT IN GEORGIA.

The Augusta Dispatch, a neutral paper, says of the prospects there: "All our advices agree that Southwestern Georgia will roll up a tremendous majority for Breck and Lane. There is scarcely a corporal's guard of Douglas men in the first and second districts outside of two or three cities; and it is confidently believed that the vote will exceed five hundred in each district. The same state of things exists in reference to the Bell party. Satisfied that Mr. Bell is not the man on whom the South can most thoroughly and satisfactorily unite, they are coming over to the support of Breckinridge and Lane, who are clearly committed to the doctrine of equality, the only fair and satisfactory basis on which the sectional troubles which distract the country can be adjusted in Upper Georgia.

The skies are still more cheering for Breckinridge, who will cross the Chattahoochee with a larger majority than any ticket has ever received; and if the Seventh and Eighth districts do as well, Georgia is secure for Breckinridge by several thousand majority over all competitors.

THE FLORIDA ELECTION.

From Florida, the returns received from eighteen counties, make Milton's majority 1,529, and Hilton's 2 125. Nineteen counties remain to be heard from, and will probably increase the Democratic majority in the State to about 2,500. This is one of the States the Bell-Everetts swore they would certainly carry.

PROSPECTS OF THE ADMINISTRATION PARTY.

It now appears that Delaware, North Carolina, Florida, Mississippi, Arkansas, South Carolina and Texas have in their State elections declared for Breckinridge; that Kentucky by a Bell and Douglas fusion in an insignificant State officer, has apparently gone for Bell; while Missouri has gone against Bell, but has not decided as between Breckinridge and Douglas. Such is briefly the result in the Southern States.

BELL AND DOUGLAS DRIVEN OFF THE FIELD.

With what face then can the Bell or Douglas men talk of success, with the North unanimously for Lincoln, and the South nearly so for Breckinridge? Their pretensions are simply absurd; and if they were wise, they would abandon the field.—Cincinnati Gazette.

THE AFFRAY AT WATERTOWN.—The Watertown Democrat administers the following rebuke to the rowdies and ruffians who assailed the Wide-Awake procession at Watertown, last Monday evening, and got soundly thrashed, for their pains:

"The fight between the Wide-Awakes and those who annoyed the procession as it passed through our streets, was an unpleasant incident. The material damage can be estimated by counting a few broken windows in Mr. Peter Seaborg's building and a few bruised heads about town. The originators of this affray deserve nothing but censure and blame. If the real instigators, whoever they were, had been more severely punished all classes and parties of our peace-loving citizens would have been better pleased.—The Republicans, as they had a perfect right to do, came here to make a political demonstration. As long as they conducted their proceedings within the limits of the propriety all parties are bound to observe, they should have been left entirely alone to carry out their display. When assailed with clubs and stones, it is natural that they should defend themselves, and the way they walked into a saloon where they had been outrageously attacked was a caution to the offenders that they had better get out of the way. Some of the missile throwers got badly bruised, and if others who escaped had a few blows that were received by the innocent, it would have been all right.

It is hard to find out who had a hand in this affair. We are sure there was not the slightest excuse or apology for getting up a collision. Our Republican citizens resolved to hold a meeting. They invited Wide-Awakes from neighboring places to participate in their proceedings. These companies should not have been meddled with, but left entirely to themselves, had conceded to them the freedom of the streets, and allowed them to depart without molestation. That is the way for one party to treat another, and no one is justified in violating common decency and courtesy by insulting shouts or violent attacks. It is no more than justice to the community to say that, but few were engaged in this disgraceful interruption and that no citizen of any character or position regards it with any other sentiments than those of scorn and contempt.

SHOCKING CALAMITY.—A woman, living in the timber, near the rail road, was at the Farmers' Mill in this village on Saturday last, and passing too near the upright shaft, her clothes were caught and she was literally broken, flayed and cut up. The revolution of the shaft was near an hundred a minute. Strange to say, she still lives, at this writing. The name of the woman we have not learned.

Mrs. I. M. Hill, of Racine, was killed in the same manner, and, we believe, on the same day, or the week before.—Monroe State Rights.

Searching for a Panic.

From the New York Post.

That the success of the Republicans in Pennsylvania would lead to a sudden commercial revulsion was so confidently predicted by the organs of fusion, that we sent reporters abroad yesterday to see and describe the phenomenon. As Wall street is commonly considered the centre of trade, we supposed that the event would be most distinctly visible in that quarter. Accordingly we stationed several ready writers on the steps of the Custom House, several more on the rotunda of the Exchange, and one on the top of Trinity Church steeple, to mark the circumstances of disaster as they might occur. Just as the astronomers lately repaired to Greenland, Gibraltar and the coast of Africa, to observe the incidents of the great eclipse, so our indefatigable corps made their way to all the best points of observation.

Pen in hand and a note-book ready, they stood for several hours in momentary expectation of the grand crash. Every unusual noise—the rumbling of the cart-wheels, the hurras of the boys, the cries of the Venders of apples, startled them with painful anxiety. "Now is the time," they exclaimed, "now the awful overturn is coming,"

Dies iræ, dies illa,
Solvet sæclum in favilla;

and they held their breaths in suspense. But twelve o'clock came, and no panic; one o'clock came, and no panic; two, three, four o'clock—when the last edition of the Evening Post goes to press—and still no panic. Our reporters looked into the bank parlors, visited the brokers' offices, ran up the steps of the Clearing House, poked their noses into Jauncey Court, and took a few oysters at Delmonico's, and still, with their utmost diligence, were unable to find what they were looking for.

The whole world, we believe, was in a conspiracy against that panic. The sun rose as usual, only with a little more than its usual brightness; the genial air of our rich autumnal weather was more genial than ever; people, as you met them, had pleasant smiles on their faces, particularly those who had read the morning papers; and the business of the vast metropolis went forward with characteristic bustle and speed. Carmen, mechanics, stevedores, lawyers, merchants, editors—all the busy classes of our population, prosecuted their callings with as much eagerness and indifference to outward concerns as they had ever done in their lives. Though the journalists had told them that a stupendous calamity impended over their heads, they did not seem to care for it a whit!

The commercial world was even perverse. It would not have a panic on any consideration. Not a solitary man or house was kind enough to fail. Not a bank refused to pay specie. Not a stock sunk ruinously to the delight of the bears. William B. Astor, Duncan Sherman & Co., Moses Taylor, and all the rest of the fusionists, held on their bonds and securities, without abating a penny of their price. We could not hear that even the trembling Henry, Smith, & Townsend put their dry goods down one cent.—Stewart, Lord & Taylor, Arnold, Constable & Co., and all the other fashionable shops, were crowded with purchasing women. In the evening the theatre's were filled. Miss Cushman, Forrest, Laura Keene, the Wallacks were never more attractive.—At Laura Keene's and Wallack's in fact, the reckless multitudes broke out in hearty roars of laughter. Without thinking for a moment that they stood on the brink of national dissolution, the wicked wretches laughed. Panic was not in all their thoughts; but each man did seem to say with Milton:

Hence, loathed Melancholy,
Of Cerberus and blackest midnight born

It might have been supposed that if any kind of property was peculiarly sensitive to the rumors of war and disunion, the stocks of the slave States would be that kind.—The slave States alone have ever threatened to break up the confederacy, and upon them chiefly would fall the evils of the calamity. The secession and the union parties of the South would be the principal combatants.—The North, at the worst, would scarcely do more than look on. Yet, strange to say, while Pennsylvania was sounding the last hour of our destinies, these hardened sinners of Wall street were buying and selling Virginia and Missouri stocks at an advance of one per cent. All the State stocks, indeed, were incorrigibly buoyant, and some of them fairly capered with life. The railroads grinned at the panic; Erie unsecured jumped up one degree higher, and there were banks so impervious to a sense of their situation that they discounted enormous amounts of paper at three months from date. Are these Presidents and Boards of Directors aware that in less than three months we shall be plunged in solumn chaos and fraternal blood will run along the gutters? Young men and maidens, too, ye who expect to dance all night with the Prince of Wales, do not forget that by the middle of November it will all be over with your unhappy country! Think of that, and then dance, if you can!

IMPORTANT FROM NEW MEXICO.

War Against the Navajoes Commenced in Earnest.

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Oct. 15.

The New Mexican mail, with dates to the 1st inst., arrived to-night. The campaign against the Navajoe Indians has commenced in earnest. Four hundred Utahs are employed by special agent Pfeffer. Also 800 Mexicans and Pueblo Indians have taken the field. These with the regular army, is thought, will make a clean sweep, and whip the Indians into submission. Five men, who were cutting hay twenty miles this side of Fort Union, a few days ago, were attacked by Indians. Two of the party were killed, the other three making their escape.

LOUIS NAPOLEON'S DEFINITION OF CIVILIZATION.—The Emperor Napoleon, in a speech at Algiers, during his late visit there, gave his ideas of what constitutes civilization. He said, "Providence requires us to extend over this land the benefits of civilization. Now, what is civilization? It is to consider happiness as something, the life of man as much, and his moral perfection as the greatest good. Thus, to elevate the Arabs to the dignity of freemen, to spread among them instruction, at the same time respecting their religion, to ameliorate their condition by raising from the earth all the treasures which Providence has deposited there, and which a bad government would leave sterile; such is our mission, and we shall not fail in it."

TERRIBLE AND FATAL ACCIDENT.—A young man named Harrison Fenstermacher was killed in a terrible manner at Parish & Doolittle's Steam Sash Factory on Tuesday morning. While attempting to turn off a belt from the shafting, his foot was caught in the belt and he was drawn up instantly, and revolved around the shaft at a fearful rate. Mr. Parish, who was in the engine room, stopped the machinery as soon as possible, but not soon enough to save Mr. F. The body was not mangled much, but the bones were badly broken, as his leg was wound closely around the shaft. The deceased was about 19 years of age, and has parents in Oak Grove.—Dodge Co. Citizen, Oct. 18.

BADLY SCARED.—The foundations of Kluber's new block are several feet below the ricketty cobble-stone walls upon which the brick side of the United States block are based, and to dig for the former, the shaky footing of the latter was manifested. The walls of the U. S. block have been propped up with massive timbers, but doubts of their security have, notwithstanding, beset the inmates thereof. Yesterday forenoon something cracked, and down upon the sidewalk, "on the run," came the inmates of the upper stories, scared, pale and trembling. Nothing, however, transpired.—Madison Argus.

A Duel in Missouri.

NODAWAY, Mo., Oct. 13.

A duel was fought near here yesterday morning, between Isaiah J. Porter, Esq., President of the Democratic Club, and Chairman of the Executive Committee of St. Joseph, and Col. Harlen, of Boonville. Mr. Porter was addressing a political meeting at Nodaway, when Col. Harlen called him a liar. Both parties were seriously, though not fatally wounded.

Grand Ball at Boston.

BOSTON, Oct. 18—3 P. M.

A grand ball was given last night by our citizens to the commander and officers of the royal squadron at the City Hall, and was the greatest affair of the kind ever given in the city. 600 persons were present. The elite of our citizens, and the English officers were in full uniform. The hall was splendidly decorated.

The steamer Styx arrived last night. The Nile is not yet in sight.

Departure of Steamers.

FOR TWO RIVERS.

The steamer Huron leaves Olmsted's dock, every evening at 5 o'clock, for Port Washington, Sheboygan, Manitowoc and Two Rivers.

FOR BUFFALO.

Screw steamers, with good accommodations, leave the different transportation docks every day, for Buffalo.

FOR OSWEGO AND ODDENSBURGH.

One of the Northern Transportation Co's screw teamers sails for the above ports every day, from the he Company's dock at the M. & Miss. R. R. depot, touching at nearly all intermediate ports.

FOR COLLINGWOOD.

The Collingwood Line of screw steamers leave semi-weekly from Dousman's dock, foot of East Water Street, connecting at Collingwood with the Northern Railway of Canada, for the East.

FOR GREEN BAY.

The screw steamer Ogontz makes weekly trips to the above port starting from Olmsted's dock.

THE PUBLIC are well aware that Councillor LOCKWOOD has repeatedly urged in the Common Council, the appointment of a new Investigating Committee, and the Council as repeatedly has snubbed Mr. LOCKWOOD, and disregarded his resolutions.

The main part of this opposition seemed to come from Councillors GREULICH and JOHNSON. Whether they have any reason to fear the further prosecution of an Investigating Committee, above the other members, we cannot say, but they are dead set against it and use all their influence and eloquence to choke down any more scrutiny into official acts.

Mr. TIM O'BRIEN—he who was involuntarily saved during the recent calamity—pronounces Mr. LOCKWOOD's efforts undertaken for the sake of making political capital—got up for buncombe.

It strikes sober people that if such is the case, the quickest way to "take the wind out of Mr. LOCKWOOD's sails," would be to appoint the Committee. If the rat is in the meal, it must come out—but what we want just now is to be satisfied of its presence.—Appoint the Committee, gentlemen—unless you are afraid of publicity. It is very foolish to suppose that any new revelations can impair the Democratic party. (Peace to its ashes.) And it is a most foolish sentimentality to oppose this move, out of respect for its memory.

HON. GALUSHA A. GROW.—This distinguished Representative from the Keystone State arrived in our city yesterday afternoon, from Fond du Lac; and was escorted, by the Reception Committee of our Central Club, to his quarters at the Newhall House. In the evening he addressed a very large and enthusiastic gathering of Republicans on Market Square. He leaves us this morning, on his way to Chicago, to fulfil engagements in Illinois. Mr. GROW was already well known to the People of Wisconsin by his labors in Congress, in the cause of FREE LABOR, FREE HOMESTEADS and FREE SPEECH. The favorable impression thus created has been greatly strengthened by a personal intercourse with the worthy son of Pennsylvania.

AN IMPUDENT PROCEEDING.—Mr. JESPER VLIET undertook, on Wednesday, to have Messrs. CROCKER, GOODRICH and other gentlemen, connected with the management of the La Crosse R. R., arrested for constructive "burglary," in taking possession of some of their own premises, which have been temporarily occupied by employees of the Horicon road. The complaint was heard by Judge MALLORY, of the Municipal Court, yesterday, and promptly dismissed. We learn that Mr. VLIET will be proceeded against, both civilly and criminally, for his unwarrantable conduct in the matter.

TREATMENT OF S. M. BOOTH.—Deacon LOVE sends us a very indignant protest against the treatment of S. M. BOOTH, by the Federal officers who have him in custody. If Mr. LOVE's statement is well founded, he has good reason for the complaint he makes. It seems incredible, however, that the U. S. Marshal should be so unnecessarily harsh and cruel in the treatment of a prisoner. Can the News furnish us with the facts in the case, or will the Marshal himself supply the desired information? Let us have THE FACTS.

A BRILLIANT DEMONSTRATION.—The turn out of the Wide-Awakes and Republican Ward Clubs, last evening, in honor of Mr. GROW, was a large and handsome one. We judge that there were a thousand torches in the procession, and the enthusiasm was intense. This, however, is but a "sprinkling." If the weather is fine, next Wednesday night, we shall have a magnificent demonstration to welcome home CARL SCHURZ.

MUNICIPAL COURT, OCT. 18TH.—ED. MCGENNY, drunk. Pen. and costs $6,50, or ten days in jail.

WM. RAWLEY, drunk. Penalty and costs $6.00, or seven days in jail.

THOS. SMITH and JOSEPH DELANY depositing nuisances in the street. Penalty and costs $22.61 for both. Paid.

CITIZENS of the Seventh Ward can be supplied with revolvers or bowie knives by NAGRO, whose stock is large and well selected.

Select small ones, as more serviceable in a crowd of highwaymen. An ounce of prevention is very good, but twelve ounces is too much.

BODY FOUND.—A dispatch was received yesterday from Chicago, that a body had been found there which was supposed to belong to Milwaukee, Wis.; 5 ft. 6 in. high, dark brown hair, blue military frock coat, black cassimere pants, white shirt, linen bosom, grey merino undershirt, cotton flannel drawers, calf boots, gold watch No. 13,108.

MAN KILLED ON THE LA CROSSE RAILROAD.—A brakesman by the name of BAXTER was instantly killed yesterday morning, between Mauston and Kilbourn City, by falling from a train on the La Crosse road.—His arms and head were severed from the body by the wheels. It is supposed that he missed his footing and fell between the platforms.

THE HORICON RAILROAD DIFFICULTIES.—We understand that our Supreme Court, upon a hearing before them on Tuesday, have dissolved the injunction granted by Judge MCARTHUR, of this Circuit, and substantially confirmed the Receiver, Mr. LYNDSAY WARD, in his possession of the road.

PIERCE, the Newsman—and Bill Poster—has on exhibition at his news depot, corner of Mason and Milwaukee streets, the great political painting recently exhibited here.—Admission free.

Great Republican Demonstration!

Enthusiastic Reception of Hon. Galusha A. Grow.

Four Thousand Persons Afoot!

The Democratic Platform Gives Out Under Republican Pressure!

The reception of Hon. GALUSHA A. GROW last evening was a most complete success.

At an early hour in the evening the Milwaukee Wide-Awakes, numbering 200, formed on Main Street. They were shortly after joined by the two clubs of the Third Ward, bearing appropriate devices and transparencies, every man a voter, and each carrying a torch. The Welsh Republican Club from this Ward turned out strong, and a finer and sturdier corps of men it would be difficult to find.

The Wauwatosa Wide-Awakes arrived, preceded by a large wagon, on which was arranged two locomotive head-lights, made to revolve as the vehicle moved. This was surmounted by a transparency bearing the inscription

FREE LANDS
FOR THE LANDLESS!!

The First, Second, Fourth, Eighth and Ninth Wards came next. A long and continous stream of torches.

The Fourth Ward carried a number of transparencies, on one was a representation of "Stephen looking for his mother" on another

"ABE'S BOYS."

DOWN WITH THE COTTONGIN PEACEMAKERS.

One very large transparency represented in an artistic manner the effects of Squatter Sovereignty, and on the reverse the happy results of the Homestead Bill.

Numerous small muslin transparencies were lettered "GROW;" and on one carried by the Fourth Ward was the assertion:

WE WILL TEACH THEM THEIR ABE-B-OS.

On the converse:

FOURTH WARD GOOD FOR 300 MAJORITY.

The Fifth Ward Club was preceded by a banner inscribed:

LABOR CONQUERS EVERYTHING—WISCONSIN GOOD FOR 20,000 MAJORITY.

The head lights and transparencies which preceded the Wauwatosa Wide Awakes, came from the work shop of the Mississippi rail road, and was ingeniously arranged.

There was also a very handsome cluster of torches, arranged in an inscribed socket, from the work shop of the La Crosse road, bearing the motto:

"LAND FOR THE LANDLESS."

It would be almost impossible to enumerate all the sentiments painted and carried through the streets last night.

After forming on Main Street the vast procession moved off. By actual count there were 957 torches carried by MEN—and counted by Democrats at that, who feel somewhat sheepish to think this almost impromptu demonstration eclipses that gotten up in honor of their Little Demi-God.

Passing up Main, down Biddle and thro' East Water street, the torchlight procession filled into Market Square, where were already assembled about two thousand people The scene from the stand was a lively one.

The procession marched up the Square to Mason street where it bent around and came down on the other side, performing a complete circuit and continuing on around, the remainder meanwhile pouring in.

By this means the whole line finally wound around itself in the Square, completely filling all the space from the stand up to Mason street, and presenting the most beautiful spectacle, as the line seemed to evolve like so many glow worms, in and out—until the whole area was a mass of living flame.

As soon as order could be obtained, Mr. STAREWEATHER called the meeting to order and introduced Mr. GROW as the author and champion of the Homestead Bill.

The appearance of the gentleman was the signal for three of the heartiest and most deafening cheers that ever went up from Market Square.

We are under the necessity of stating that for want of proper management on the part of those who had charge of the demonstration, that we are unable to present even a sketch of that speech. Not only was the square filled with people at the time the speech was commenced, but the staging was crowded to suffocation.

There were no tables or conveniences for reporting, and two of our city editors who were with us on the platform left it out of regard for their necks. The staging was erected by the Democrats for the DOUGLAS reception, and on that occasion was kept clear of outsiders by the officers and marshals. On the present occasion, however, not one was it jammed full of the heaviest Republicans in town, but boys clung to every square inch of projecting stuff, and were squatted like young sovereigns even on the temporary roof.

It is hardly to be wondered at, that, under these circumstances, before the speaker had spoken half an hour, half of the structure gave way, and came down with a crash, burying speaker and listeners in promiscuous confusion.

For a moment it was supposed that a number were hurt—but for a moment only—the next, Mr. GROW appeared on the remaining half of the flimsy staging, ready to finish his speech.

He then stated that it was about as rotten as the rest of the DOUGLAS platform, and regretted very much that it had not been built of rails.

His appearance was greeted with a round of cheers, and he finished his speech, tracing the history of the Homestead measure, showing how it was defeated and killed, and by whom.

Mr. GROW is a young man, an effective and pleasing speaker, and when warmed up, full of the impassioned vehemence that makes the orator.

The community and the Democratic party will be the gainers. During the remarks two or three interruptions occurred, from crestfallen Democrats who lurked in the shadows of Oneida Street, they laying hold upon every opportunity, to shout for "Douglas." We have the testimony of several who were present, that these fellows were drunken Irishmen, and if the delegation of them which will visit us to-day to get the statement corrected will spend their time in teaching their violent friends better manners, they will receive the thanks of every lover of Law and Order.

One individual known as Ed. BURKE took especial pains to create a disturbance and was only prevented by the number of Wide-Awakes who finally surrounded him.

Altogether the demonstration was worthy of the Republicans and their visitor, and we have no doubt Milwaukee, in November will do herself equal honor in rolling up a majority in favor of a HOMESTEAD BILL.

LOCAL NOTICES.

DR. S. A. WEAVER'S CERATE.—IT IS now about ten years since this article was first introduced to the public, and such has been its success, that from the annual sale of a few thousand bottles of it, the sales have now reached Millions in the same length of time Now what is the reason of this great increase of its use? Simply from the fact that there never has been an article that could be compared to it, for curing many of that class of diseases which always been said to be incurable. It has effected permanent cures. Another reason of its great success is from the fact that when one person uses it, he finds out what it will do, and tells it to his neighbors, and the use of one bottle is sure to make sale of hundreds of others. We have never puffed it, or tried to force it upon the public, but have left it to make its own way and establish its own reputation, and it has so far done it, that in most places where it has been introduced, it has taken the place of all other Ointments and Salves.

Congress and the Legislature.

We cannot too often, or too earnestly impress upon our Republican friends, in every Congressional and Legislative District of this State, the necessity of extra efforts to secure the election of the Republican candidates. No reasonable man of either party longer doubts that Mr. LINCOLN will be the choice of the People of the United States for the office of President. The October elections, resulting in such overwhelming Republican victories, have settled that question. But Mr. LINCOLN, as President, could accomplish little for the peace, prosperity and glory of the Republic, without the help of Congress. He needs the aid and sympathy of a REPUBLICAN Senate and a REPUBLICAN House. We shall have to wait a year, or two, yet, for the former—though it will come, ere long—but the latter can be secured now.

In the States which have thus far chosen Representatives to the next Congress, the Republicans have sustained a loss, as compared with the present House, of two or three members. This loss can be easily made up, and the balance struck in our favor, by the States yet to vote. We have strong hopes that New York and New Jersey will show Republican gains. There is a good chance of an additional member from Illinois: and there is the fairest prospect for a like gain in Wisconsin and Michigan. So far as this State is concerned, the reports we receive warrant the confident belief that with earnest and persevering efforts on the part of the Republicans, all three Congressional Districts can be carried by decisive majorities. Our friends, therefore, have every encouragement and incentive to WORK. Let every man do all that in him lies to secure three Republican members from Wisconsin. It will be of vast advantage to our State to back up the Administration of ABRAHAM LINCOLN by an unanimous vote in the two Houses of Congress.

We assume that our next Legislature will be strongly Republican. No other result is possible, unless our friends suffer themselves to be divided, or distracted, by local jealousies, or personal rivalries. In such a crisis as the present, with such important issues before the people; such momentous interests at stake; so glorious an opportunity of committing the management of public affairs to fit, trustworthy and responsible hands—all mere local, or personal considerations sink into utter insignificance. The man who, at such a time, for the sake of some petty office, or to advance some fancied local interest; or to gratify some small personal spite, refuses to support the regularly selected candidates of the Republican Party, for the various posts to be filled this fall, is not worthy to be a Republican, and must be regarded as indifferent, if not hostile, to the success of the great principles which we have at heart. There cannot be many such in the ranks of the true and tried Republicans of the Badger State. Let us hope, indeed, that when the final charge is sounded; when the Republican hosts muster under their glorious banner on the sixth of November for the decisive conflict; the stragglers will be few and far between. Let us march all together to the field, resolved to vote for THE TICKET, THE WHOLE TICKET, AND NOTHING BUT THE TICKET.

The October Elections.

The results of the October elections proved a stunner to the leaders and organs of the Sham Democracy. For the first few days they were dumb with amazement.—Now, however, that they have recovered a little from the first shock of the unlooked for and unwelcome news, they are trying hard to make their followers believe that it was "not much of a shower after all." But to do this, it becomes necessary to conceal a part of the truth, and cypher down the Republican majorities to as low a point as possible.

The News of yesterday engages in the task and undertakes to comfort its readers in this wise:

"OHIO AND INDIANA.—The Cincinnati Enquirer estimates the Republican majority in Ohio at less than 9,000, and the Indiana State Sentinel publishes very full returns of majorities reported and official, which show that the Democrats have been defeated by less then 6,000 in that State. No one will understand us as complaining because it is no larger; but it is pretty certain that the Republicans are not satisfied with it, otherwise they would not double it in one State and treble it in the other, in their tables. Nine thousand in Ohio is to that State what two thousand would be to Wisconsin. By no means a formidable vote to overcome. And the same ratio holds good as to Indiana. A change of one vote in every hundred would give both of the States to Douglas, if the republican majorities are no larger than stated above. This would not be a marvellous change, and it seems to us quite probable that it may be effected. The great popularity of Douglas in those States induces us to believe that there is still a chance for him in both Ohio and Indiana. We know nothing of Pennsylvania. Her ways and the ways of her politicians are past finding out."

It is but a very days since the News "knew" enough "of Pennsylvania" to claim it very confidently for FOSTER and DOUGLAS. But the thirty thousand majority for CURTIN over the Douglas-Know-Nothing "fusion" candidate, has effectually dispelled that illusion.

As to the majorities in Ohio and Indiana, it is the Democratic, not the Republican papers, that mis-state them. The Cincinnati Gazette and Cincinnati Commercial of the 16th, publish full returns from all but seven counties, and estimate those counties at the same vote as last year. Their tables agree in making the majority for BRINKERHOFF upwards of twenty thousand over the Douglas-Know-Nothing "fusion." So, too, complete returns from Indiana show a Republican majority of ten thousand over a similar "fusion." We have no idea that the News has the slightest faith in the possibility of "overcoming" these majorities. There will, no doubt, be a "change" in these States at the November election, but it will not be in the News, direction. Both Ohio and Indiana will largely increase their Republican majorities 'of October; and Pennsylvania, it is said, will add ten thousand, or so, to hers.

The Prospect in this State---New York to be Redeemed.

The Albany Atlas & Argus of the 15th inst., says: "Intelligence from all parts of the State tend to one end—that New York can and will be redeemed, and that by its vote Lincoln will be defeated! This is the word that is sent us from the North and the South, the East and the West. The intelligence of disaffection and defeat in other States, instead of discouraging the Democracy, has served to arouse and invigorate them. Those States have been lost because distracting counsels and divided organizations have broken the Democratic force. Here the party is compact and concentrated; conscious of its responsibility and resolutely marching straight to its end."—News, of yesterday.

Gammon. Sham Democracy, though it has "fused" with the Know-Knothings, stands no more chance of carrying New York, than it does of succeeding in Vermont. "Fusion" has killed Democracy dead in the Empire State. Such an utterly profligate and unprincipled "bargain and sale" was never before known in the history of the States. But the leaders contracted to sell out any required number of votes to each other, they have failed to "deliver." The honest masses refuse to be auctioned off in the political shambles by their unscrupulous hucksters. They decline to "go it blind," as the "confidence" committee propose they shall do, and insist upon knowing for whom the candidates for Electors on the Union ticket intend to vote,

The Tribune, Post and other New York papers of the 16th and 17th, express entire confidence that New York will go overwhelmingly for LINCOLN. The Albany Evening Journal of the same date predicts that NEW YORK will give twice as large a majority for LINCOLN as PENNSYLVANIA. The News and its readers may gather from this some idea of the vote which the Empire State will cast on the 6th of November. NEW YORK WILL LEAD THE REPUBLICAN COLUMN!

Carl Schurz.

Much of the completeness of the victory in Pennsylvania is due to the labors of Carl Schurz. His published speeches had a wide circulation in the State, and wherever he spoke he accomplished a great deal of good in enlightening those whose prejudices had blinded them in the dark. The lodofoco press abused him without stint, lied about him and heaped maledictions on his head; and it is their usual course when they see power slipping from their grasp through the instrumentality of such men. All honor to Carl Schurz!—Pittsburgh Gazette.

While the Republican Press in the States where Mr. SCHURZ has rendered such signal service to the good cause, freely acknowledge their indebtedness to him for contributing so largely to their triumph, the organs of sham Democracy everywhere teem with the foulest abuse of him and the grossest misrepresentations of his history and his political opinions. Thus the Madison Patriot of Wednesday contains the following:

The most prominent declaimers, says the Washington States & Union, at the Infidel Convention in New York city on Saturday last, were some of the lights of the Republican party, including Carl Schurz, the German Republican Champion of the West.

Instead of declaiming at the "Infidel Convention" in New York, last Saturday, Mr. SCHURZ was present at and addressed the grand Republican gathering at Buffalo.—What fabrication will the shams start next in regard to Mr. SCHURZ?

California for Lincoln.

The subjoined special dispatch was received yesterday, by telegraph, from St. Joseph, and came through to that point by Pony Express from San Francisco. It adds immeasurably to the chance now presented, that LINCOLN will carry every Northern State:

[Special dispatch from California to the Missouri Democrat.]

OFFICE REPUBLICAN CENTRAL COMMITTEE, SAN FRANCISCO, October 4th, 1860.

To Messrs. McKee & Fishback:

Returns from the various county organizations and clubs, to this office, show a Republican strength in this State of thirty-thousand five hundred votes. If the news from the October elections in the East should prove to be such as we hope for and expect, this State is certain for LINCOLN. On this you may. WM. RABE, Secty.

—St. Louis Democrat, 16th inst.

As the October elections resulted far more favorably than the most sanguine Republicans dared to hope, the chances for carrying California for LINCOLN may be set down as more than fair. The Democratic vote will be pretty equally devided between DOUGLAS and BRECKINRIDGE.

Presidential Election.

The whole number of electoral votes is 303—necessary to a choice 152. The following States are certain for LINCOLN:

Maine	8 votes	Pennsylvania	27 votes
New Hampshire	5 "	Ohio	23 "
Vermont	5 "	Indiana	13 "
Massachusetts	13 "	Illinois	11 "
Rhode Island	4 "	Michigan	6 "
Connecticut	6 "	Wisconsin	5 "
New York	35 "	Iowa	4 "
New Jersey	7 "	Minnesota	4 "
Total			170

To these may be pretty certainly added Oregon, 3 votes, and California, 4 votes. This would give Mr. LINCOLN every Free State, and the strong probabilities are that he will get them all.

And Still they Come.

Ex-Lieutenant Gov. BEALE, of Fayeldeb, Fon du Lac county, in this State, hitherto one of the most adamantine of Democrats, declared for LINCOLN in a public speech in that place on Monday evening last.

GOV. BEALE was on the Democratic State Ticket of 1849, and in joining the Republicans, has only stepped back upon the old Democratic platform.

COLUMBIA COUNTY CENSUS.—The Portage City Record gives the total population of Columbia County, by the recent census, as 25,194, a gain since 1855 of 7629, or nearly 45 per cent.

Six Negroes Kidnapped near Sandusky.

The Sandusky Register of yesterday (15th) says that on Friday evening, at about nine o'clock, two cabins situated on the "Mills lot," a little south of the Castalia road, about three miles from Sandusky, were surprised by a party of some ten or fifteen kidnappers, and Mr. Marshall and wife, and Mr. Hutchins, wife—a free woman—and two children, were taken from their homes, dragged to the railroad, and put on board the night train for Cincinnati, which left Sandusky at ten P. M. The neighbors were aroused and went to Castalia station to stop the party, but could not find them in the cars. After the cars started it was discovered that a dark car was attached, and that the kidnappers and their victims had entered that car at Venice siding, near where the assault had been committed. The Register says:

A neighbor living on the way between the cabins and the point on the road where they took the cars, heard Mrs. Hutchins crying, and asked her what was the matter; she replied that "several persons were taking her away," and called for help. He stepped into his house, and took a loaded gun and fired a charge of shot at a man as he was attempting to get Mrs. H. over the fence. The man fell and called for help, when some others came to his relief and took the woman away. There were found evidences of pretty severe scuffling about the cabins. Some report that blood was found, and that the course of the party could be traced by blood along the way. One child of 7 years was found in one of the cabins, and the pantaloons worn by one of the negroes. Several hard looking, suspicious fellows were observed about this city on Friday afternoon and evening, and from various circumstances there can be no doubt that they were concerned in the affair.

Something, perhaps, ought to be said in relation to the position in which the transaction puts the Conductor having charge of the train on Friday night. The Venice side track is a place where the train under some circumstances has stopped, though not often. Some of the characters above mentioned went to Mr. Clapp, the Ticket Agent, and represented that a party of eight hunters were going to be there, as they would be too tired to walk to the station. They also represented to the Conductor, as is reported, that a party of detectives from Cincinnati with their "birds" desired to take the train there, and, as we are informed this evening, deceived the officers of the train.

The Register of this morning (16th) says:

The persons were as follows: Henry Burns, wife and one child. It is claimed here that the woman was free. Thos. Marshall, wife and one child. The children were each about six months old, and were born in Ohio. They first came here in December last, as we are told, and sometime during the winter, rented thirty acres of wild land for five years, put up cabins and moved on to it in March last. In the spring they cleared seven acres and put out crops, and the cultivated land is now covered with a fine crop of corn, &c., sufficient for their winter's supply.

Several of our citizens have visited the place, and they report that everything looks as though they had been industrious and were comfortably situated. There are other negro cabins in the neighborhood—none close by—and no whites living near. The colored man who heard Mrs. Burns crying as she was being dragged over the fence and who shot the kidnapper, was probably the first one of the neighbors aroused, and the first to give the alarm.

Two gentlemen from this city, who were passing on Sunday morning, through the field where the captives were taken, discovered a sheet lying partly concealed within a shock of corn. Upon further examination they found a little child of two and a half years partly wrapped in the sheet. It looked up with a pitiful, wild look, but was too much exhausted to cry, it having been exposed there two nights and one day, covered with nothing but a thin cotton sheet. It was cold and swollen, and looked as though it had nearly cried itself to death. It was taken to a house and cared for, and yesterday had quite recovered and seemed cheerful. It is probable that when the man who was dragging the woman over the fence was fired at, and called for help, some one of the party was carrying the child and threw it down and ran to the relief of his companion.

What say you mothers of that "institution" which makes such things possible, and allows them under cover of law?

The Cincinnati papers announce the arrival of the posse with their prey in that city and the removal of the latter to Mason county, Ky.

ADDRESS TO THE PEOPLE OF PENNSYLVANIA.—Pennsylvania has spoken in the under tones in behalf of the Union, of Industry, of Freedom. Her people have met the combined hosts of sectionalism, disunion, free trade and all others who sought markets for their suffrages, and a majority of 30,000 for Governor, twenty Congressmen, and more than two-thirds of each branch of the Legislature, attests the fidelity of our State to the integrity of our institutions, and the common prosperity of our country.

Indiana, Ohio and Minnesota have joined the Keystone State in demanding that sectional discord, wanton profligacy, and the desolation of free trade, shall cease to be the policy of the National Government.

The decisive battle has been fought—a nation has been redeemed from disunion and dishonor by the verdict of Tuesday last. The issue was made by our foes and accepted by our friends, and millions to-day greet the triumph as the unerring harbinger of our national disenthrallment.

Let the friends of the right not be content with no ordinary victory—Abraham Lincoln can be called to the Presidency by a clear majority of the people of the United States, if all who shall rejoice at his coming will but cast their suffrages for him. To that majority Pennsylvania can and will contribute full fifty thousand. We have but to be faithful to our great cause, and it is done. Let every man be at his post on the great day, and the largest majority ever given by Pennsylvania to any Chief Magistrate, will be cast on the 6th of November for Abraham Lincoln, for Union, for Freedom, for Fraternity!

A. K. McCLURE,
Chairman People's State Committee.
People's State Committee Rooms, Philadelphia, Oct. 11, 1860.

A NEW LIGHT upon motive in self-murder seems to shine in the following paragraph:

"The wife of the Austrian General Enyatten, who committed suicide upon the discovery of his gigantic frauds during the late Italian war, was lately sentenced to three years hard labor, her extravagant habits having encouraged her husband in his acts of depredation. In consideration of her children, her sentence was commuted to three months' imprisonment, and the giddy Baroness is now serving out the punishment meted to her for her reckless conduct."

If New York coroners were to go thus to the source, in their investigations, what pithy verdicts we should have, when Paterfamiliases take the short cut! The statement of City reporters would become picturesque, and we should read as follows: "Verdict:—Died of asphyxia, caused by an attempt to swallow a milliner's bill, culpably administered to him by his wife." Or, "Verdict:—Died of mental extravagance, developed in an excessive action of mauve tint, and subsequently brain. The Coroner ordered the widow to be taken into custody.

POPULATION OF OHIO.—The returns of the Marshal for the Northern District gives 1,082,690, an increase, in ten years, in the counties that now compose this District, of about 160,060.

The returns of the Marshal for the Southern District (excepting Hamilton county) give the population at 1,262,187. The Marshall is revising the Hamilton county returns, but Cincinnati is estimated 152,000, and Hamilton county, outside of Cincinnati, will have more than 50,000. Thus adding Hamilton county, 212,000, gives a population in the Southern District, of 1,475,187. This shows an increase of 200,300 in that District.

The population of Ohio in 1850 was 1,980,329; in 1860, 2,559,187; increase, 575,858.

And while Ohio shows such an increase, there is not a settlement, from the Mississippi to the Pacific, that does not number Buckeyes among its best inhabitants.—Cleveland Herald.

DEATH OF THE GRANDMOTHER OF THE PRINCE OF WALES.—The last advices from Europe bring the tidings of the death, on the 1st inst., of the Dowager Dutchess of Saxe Cobourg-Gotha, mother of Prince ALBERT, the Prince Consort of England, and consequently grandmother to the Prince of Wales.

The deceased Dutchess was the daughter of the Duke of Wurtemberg, and the second wife of the Duke Ernst the First of Saxe-Cobourg-Gotha, whom she survived. She was in her 62d year, and had been a widow for sixteen years.

She left two sons—the reigning Duke of Saxe-Cobourg Gotha, and Prince ALBERT of England.

GOV. RANDALL'S APPOINTMENTS.—We are authorized to state that Gov. CITY LAND OFFICE.

FOR SALE AT A GREAT BARGAIN. That well known and celebrated Stone Mill at Mazomanie, which is built in the very best of manner, with all modern improvements, and four run of stone; with several one hundred barrels of flour a day—(the flour from this Mill is celebrated.) The Mill is not more than four or five years old. It is situated on a side hill of the Mill & Bliss R. R., on Black Earth River, and has an abundance of water all the year round. This grand Mill is two stories high—four stories high. There is also another building for a Wool Factory, three stories high. The ground included with the buildings is 300 by 300 feet. The location of the great Mill is very desirable; the country around it is densely populated, and it is now doing an immense business which can be increased to a large amount, as the owner is compelled to raise money. The Mill and grounds, and Factory, cost thirty two thousand dollars—and to build it, it will be sold at a great sacrifice: but ten thousand dollars cash will be required down, the balance, whatever may be agreed upon, may be paid in Milwaukee city property, good Western Lands, or any Eastern property, or good bonds and mortgages on Eastern or Western property. SPECIAL NOTICE.

THERE IS A RARE OPPORTUNITY for a good BLACKSMITH and a good SHOEMAKER to establish themselves in a lucrative business, in the town of Hazelville, in Monroe County, Wisconsin. It is located on the line of the LaCrosse & Milwaukee Railroad, in the heart of the famous La Crosse Valley, one of the pleasantest and healthiest parts of the State. Being a new place, the owner of the lands in the vicinity of the depot proposes to furnish building lots for shop and dwelling, to a limited number, FREE, so as to enable some industrious, but poor mechanics, an excellent chance to better their immediate prospects. The place is thriving, and has, at present, some two or three hundred farmers within five miles; and two good water-powers within half a mile of the depot: also a post office and depot. Large quantities of wheat are shipped daily from this station.

Any communications to the undersigned will be promptly attended to. O. M. BERSEY.

THE MIGHTY HEALER.

LET NOT DISEASE, WITH ITS fangs, prey upon you, until the cold hand of death hurls you to an untimely grave. Shake off the feeling of despair and hopelessness, so liable to come upon the invalid. The plant born of the Sun we place within the reach of all. We care not what may be the specific order of the disease. The cause, the fountain of the disease itself, is impure blood, and through the different channels of the lungs, stomach and the vital organs, JUDSON'S MOUNTAIN HERB PILLS will pass, mingling with the blood, search out and grasp and then expel, all hurtful poison that there is in it. Thus cleanse the blood by a few doses of these Pills, and disease in any form, will dissipate and vanish. As the Sun with its glorious beams first causes the morning dew to rise as mist, then growing stronger casts his burning rays upon it—and behold 'tis gone—so cleanse the blood, and disease, like morning dew, retreats and vanishes. There is no blood purifier equal to JUDSON'S MOUNTAIN HERB PILLS.

PRYOR AND POTTER.

The Boston Transcript takes off ROGER A. PRYOR thus:

"IS THIS A DAGGER?"

Roger Pryor turned Brutus:
'Tis awful to think on!
He's going to shoot us!
And poignard Abe Lincoln!
For, should we be elected,
And Bold Roger will give him
No time for confession;
But murder old Abe—
How it makes the blood curdle!
And Archie Dixon and Brutus did,
Over the girdle,
But who is this Roger,
That vapors and swaggers?
This valorous Roger,
Who talks about daggers?
Why, it's Roger A. Pryor,
Whose only has grown hotter,
Since the roasting it got
From the hands of John Potter.

A LEAF FOR LITTLE LADIES.

SPRINGTIME.

[CONCLUDED.]

There was a few moments' silence; then Ellie rose, and laying her hand on his arm, looked up in his face with an earnest look in her blue eyes. "Don't speak so, dear Arthur! I don't think God will let us be drowned. Just as you spoke, the verse I read this morning came into my head: 'Why are ye so fearful, O ye of little faith?'"

Arthur was silent, and stood thinking for a little; at last he said: "Let us go into the cave again, Ellie. There is no chance of escape here; perhaps we may find some place in the walls to which we can climb up. I have heard that in some caves the water only covers the surface of the floor."

Ellie allowed herself, somewhat unwillingly, to be led from the fresh air back into the dark cavern. Then shutting her eyes, she leaned in silence against the rock, while Arthur eagerly investigated the damp walls. "Ellie," he exclaimed, "look! here is the very thing; do you see that sort of a little shelf in the rock?"

"Yes, but can we reach it?"

"I think so; you know we are both good climbers."

After a little difficulty, Arthur succeeded in reaching the crevice, and lay down so as to stretch his arm as far down as possible.

"Now, Ellie, put your foot there, and take hold of that stone, and raise your left foot, and you will find another resting place.—Capital! Now raise your hand, and I will try to reach you—well done!"

Ellie drew a breath of relief when she found herself seated side by side with Arthur, and asked him a cheerful voice if he thought they would be safe where they were.

"I cannot tell, Ellie; we can only hope so."

This was not encouraging, and Ellie said no more, but looked round the cave, feeling very "eerie," for it was growing darker and darker as the evening shades crept on without.

"What are you thinking about, Ellie?" said Arthur, as he felt her tremble.

"Those lines of the song Lucy sang last night will run in my head."

"What lines, dear?"

Ellie repeated, in a voice which she tried in vain to make steady:

"They rowed her across the rolling foam,
The hungry, cruel foam,
The cruel crawling foam,
To her grave beside the sea."

"Try and think of something else."

"I have been trying for long, and I cannot."

Ellie started, a few minutes after, as the cave gave back the rich tones of Arthur's voice, as he sang the beautiful hymn:

"Jesus, lover of my soul,
Let me to thy bosom fly,
While the waters nearer roll,
While the tempest still is nigh.

"Hide me, O my Savior! hide,
Till the storm of life be past,
Safe into the haven guide,
O! receive my soul at last."

He sang steadily through the verses, and Ellie thought the words had never before seemed so beautiful as they did now. Soothed and comforted she hardly knew how, she leaned back wearily against the rock, for she was thoroughly worn out by the long day spent in scrambling among the rocks. Unlike Arthur, she did not realize the hopelessness of their situation. She knew they were in danger, but Ellie had a child's simple faith in God, and having asked him to take care of her and Arthur, felt secure in His protection. Her heavy eyes gradually closed, and in a little while her head fell on Arthur's shoulder and she was fast asleep.

"Poor little Ellie!" said Arthur to himself, as he drew her cloak closer round her, —"What a mercy it is that she can sleep so peacefully!"

Hour followed hour, and Ellie slept on while Arthur listened to the monotonous ripple of the water, and the shrill cry of the sea-bird, as it flew by to seek its nest among the cliffs. The cave was now quite dark, and, from the sound of the waves, he was expecting to feel the tide break against him every moment, when a moonbeam came floating in along the water. Arthur's heart died within him, as with it came the remembrance of Willie's words, uttered in the morning and forgotten until that moment: "It is full moon to-night, and there will be a spring-tide." A spring-tide! All hope was gone now, and he knew that a little later the cave would be full. He held the sleeping Ellie in a despairing clasp, and counted the precious moments that yet remained.

Arthur had thought of death before. He had often dreamt of falling in some glorious battlefield, and being borne to his grave to the sound of martial music, leaving an honored name behind him; but it was a very different thing rushing forward to meet death amid the roar of cannon, the trumpet's blast, and the shouts of the battle, to awaiting it in a dismal cave among the rocks, like a condemned criminal the hour of his execution, imprisoned by the rippling waves as securely as the felon by the massive walls and iron bolts of his prison.

Time wore on, but Arthur grew calmer as the tide rose higher. His defiant feelings had died away, and he felt how vain it was to struggle against God's will; and though his dreams of earthly glory had faded, would the welcoming songs of angels be less sweet? his golden crown less bright on that account? While he was thus thinking, a little ripple passed gently over his foot, and though it was what he had been expecting he recoiled as if struck by a sudden blow. Ellie still slept; she did not feel a large tear that fell on her brow as he bent over to catch the murmured words that she uttered in her sleep. She was dreaming of home; she said Willie's name, and laughed aloud.—Arthur shuddered involuntarily as the cavern wall echoed back the light laugh with a hollow sound. Was it right to let Ellie sleep on, dreaming so unconsciously, with death and eternity so near! And yet how to waken her, and tell her that all hope was gone! Arthur could not find courage to do it; he smoothed back with a trembling hand the heavy hair from the brow of the little sleeper, and let the time slip on, while he listened to her quiet breathing. How could she sleep so soundly? Was it indeed the sleep "He giveth his beloved?" and would she be spared all suffering, and only waken to find herself in heaven?

At last Ellie moved restlessly, for the tide had by this time reached her resting place, and was flowing gently over her feet, which were curled up upon the rock. Arthur was bending down to awaken her gently, when a sound from without caused him to start violently, and then shout aloud with all the strength he could muster. He hardly knew his own voice—so hoarse and strange did it sound! He shouted again—this time accompanied by a piercing cry from Ellie, who had awakened in alarm, terrified at finding herself in the water, clung, shrieking, to him.

An answering shout from a well known voice—the sound of oars—a lantern's light gleaming on the wall, and a boat forces its way into the cave.

"Thank God! we are in time!" bursts from the lips of Ellie's father, as he lifts his little daughter into the boat; and Arthur returns, convulsively, the grasp of his brother's outstretched hand.

A little longer, and the boat nears the shore; and as the boatman's cheering shout brings joy to the anxious hearts of the group assembled there, Arthur looks back to the scene of the past danger, and thinks of Ellie's verse: "Why are ye so fearful, O ye of little faith!"

GENERAL DEBILITY AND NERVOUSNESS.

Physicians are now prescribing it in the place of paregoric—stating the disagreeable effects of that medicine upon the brain.

The physicians in each city, town or village in the State are solicited to apply to the undersigned, who will give them a bottle free of charge, to try before prescribing.

Dose for an infant six weeks old, one teaspoonful, diluted in two tablespoonsful of cold water, and given by the teaspoonful every five minutes until relief is effected.

Adults and children in proportion.

The want of pure Medical Brandy has long been felt in this country.

The properties contained in this Brandy are more stringent than French Brandies. This thus manufactured retains the merits, and challenges the world to disprove these facts.

TELEGRAPH!

REPORTED BY THE N. Y. ASSOCIATED PRESS FOR THE DAILY SENTINEL.

The Prince in Boston.

BOSTON, Oct 18—2 P. M.

The weather is delightful, and the demonstration in honor of the Prince elaborate and imposing. The public buildings are decorated, and the streets are thronged. About 2,000 men, including artillery, cavalry and infantry, are now being reviewed on the Common by Gov. Banks, the Prince and a brilliant staff. Ralph Farnam was introduced to the Prince this morning. The interview was quite interesting. The flag ship Nile and steamer Styx arrived at Portland this morning.

After the review on the common, the military marched through several of the principal streets—the Prince and suite, the Governor and others occupying carriages. The display was the most imposing ever seen in New England, and was witnessed by tens of thousands.

A collation followed at the State House, given by Gov. Banks, at which there was a social and entirely informal interchange of good feelings. At 5 o'clock the Prince and suite were escorted to the Music Hall where he was welcomed by over 7,200 school children, the exercises consisting chiefly of singing, and seemed to afford the distinguished visitors much gratification.

CITY LAND OFFICE.

I HAVE THREE ACRES OF GROUND with a very neat cottage, new, three miles from Wauwatosa, which I want to exchange for a small house and lot in the First, Fifth, or Eighth Ward. The property is free from all incumbrances, and is worth from seven to eight hundred dollars. Would exchange it for a house on lease ground, that is if the lease can run for a number of years.

The money market exhibited no material change today. Currency was close, and the banks very sparing of their discount favors except to produce customers. Exchange on the East, steady, selling at ¾ ₰ cent premium from the banks.

CHICAGO MONEY MARKET.

The Press & Tribune of this morning says:

The money market continues without any marked change, except that currency is daily becoming more scarce. This has had the effect to-day to render Eastern exchange very dull at the opening; but before the close there was some inquiry and rates were firm at ¾ ₰ cent, on the street, and 1 ₰ cent premium at the banks.

The receipts of wheat to-day were 97,180 bush, of which over one-half came in by the Milwaukee & Mississippi Railroad. The market was tolerably active, and sales were generally made at 1@2c better prices than prevailed yesterday. The sales reported amount to about 90,000 bus at 90@92c for No. 1 spring, 88@90c for No. 2; and 92@93c for Club. The New York report, however, caused a reaction in the afternoon, and the market receded 1c, closing very quiet at 90@ 93 for No. 1, and No. 2 respectively. Flour was in better demand, but prices were no better. Some 2,000 bbls sold at $3,20@3.75 for fine and superfine, and $4,40@4,70 for common to choice country Extra.—Freights on flour were very irregular. None of the Transportation Companies would take any for immediate shipment, having as much on hand as they can take care of during the balance of the week. The rates by the different Lines are as follows: W. T. Co. $1,25 to New York; $1,40 to Boston; N. Y. C. $1,25 to New York, $1,30 to Boston, 60c to Buffalo; Collingwood Line 55c to Montreal; People's Line not taking any at present; Detroit & Milwaukee R'y $1,25 to New York, and $1.10 to Boston. Coarse grains were generally quiet. Some sales of rye were made at 46c; oats at 24c, and No. 2 barley at 52c. There is a large supply of inferior barley on the market, which is unsaleable, except for feed, at from 40 to 45c, and dull at that. The brewers pay 63 to 65c for choice bright samples when they can get such, but will not take any poor barley at any price. Other articles are unchanged.

The arrivals of vessels were moderate to-day, and freights consequently firm. Two vessels, the schr. Perseverance and another, were engaged at 10c, and the prop. Buffalo at 20c to load with wheat for Buffalo. Vessels were offered to arrive at 15c, and at 25c to Oswego.

THE WHEAT TRADE.

The extent of the wheat trade of Chicago and Milwaukee at this time is marvelous. The historical importance of Dantzic, Hamburgh and Odessa dwindle into colonial insignificance, compared with the wheat operations of the Northwest. The grain commerce of Lake Michigan is greater than that of the Atlantic Ocean. Chicago and Milwaukee receive and ship more wheat than any four cities on the globe.—N. Y. Tribune.

The World makes a mistake in classing Milwaukee with Chicago, and, by implication, next to that great grain market. If the World has not been informed it is through no fault of ours. Our annual statements, and various articles in Hunt's Merchants' Magazine have clearly shown that for two years past Toledo has far exceeded Milwaukee in grain business, as we have also exceeded Chicago in our receipts of flour.—Toledo Blade, 16th.

The World was perfectly right in classing Milwaukee as the second inland wheat market on the Continent, and in less than a year from this time, we predict that Milwaukee will stand forth the first wheat market of the Northwest. Toledo is doubtless a smart little place, but in commercial importance it stands in about the same relation to Milwaukee that Philadelphia does to New York. For instance, upon reading the above paragraph we turned to the Blade's market report, and found that all of 10,000 bus of wheat had been sold there that day—scarcely more than one-tenth of the average daily sales at Milwaukee during the present Fall. The Blade is evidently ignorant of the extent of the wheat trade of Milwaukee, and we presume if it could, it would not be enlightened on the subject, but there is not a grain merchant from here to Liverpool who does not know that Milwaukee stands second only to Chicago as a wheat market, in point of magnitude, and ahead of Chicago in every other respect. We will tell the Blade one or two facts which it would do well to clip out for reference whenever it feels disposed to make comparisons between Milwaukee and Toledo as wheat markets, namely; that from the "short" crop of 1859 there were better than seven millions of bushels of wheat marketed at Milwaukee, and that from the crop of the present year Wisconsin has at least fifteen millions, and Northern Iowa and Minnesota ten millions bushels of wheat to be marketed at Milwaukee between the first of September and last of next August.

A GOOD THING.

We noticed on Obange yesterday a very neat set of blank books, with printed headings, designed for the use of the Board as a convenient record of the daily and weekly receipts of produce and merchandize. They will be especially useful for reference in comparing the statistics of our grain trade, and will doubtless be kept in good style by the accurate Secretary, Mr. L. L. CROUSE, who has so creditably filled that office since the organization of the Chamber of Commerce.

CHICAGO MARKET, OCTOBER 16.

The receipts at Chicago yesterday included: 2,680 bbls flour; 147,662 bus wheat; 32,995 bus corn; 15,700 bus oats; 1,971 rye; 3,067 bus barley. The Press & Tribune says:

The wheat market to-day was unusually quiet, and prices ruled about 1c lower. Owing to a scarcity of vessels, shippers are holding off and the speculative feeling is quite subdued. About 10,000 bus changed hands at 90@91c for No. 2 Red; 86c for Northwestern Club; 87@87½c for No. 1 Spring; 83½@84½c for No. 2 Spring. Flour was easier, with sales of about 2,000 bbls at $4.40@4.60 for Spring extra; at $4.60 for White Winter ex ra. Corn was quiet and unchanged, with sales of 20,000 bush at 37½c for No. 2 Canal afloat; 38@38½c for No. 1; and 36¾@37 for No. 2. Oats were dull and low—the inquiry being unable at 17½c for No. 1 in store. Rye in good demand and steady at 51@51½c in store. Barley dull and lower. Timothy Seed quiet. Highwines unchanged.

Freights were less active but firm. Only one vessel was engaged, at 24c for wheat from Milwaukee to Oswego. In the afternoon the wind was favorable for the upward bound fleet, and nine or ten vessels arrived but there were no engagements.

WHEAT.

CINCINNATI MARKET, OCT. 15TH.

From the Gazette of Wednesday morning:

The flour market is decidedly sluggish. Holders, in anticipation of better prices in the future, are not disposed to press stocks at a decline; but buyers, outside of the local trade, are scarce, and the latter purchase from day to day, as their current wants require. The sales for the week will not exceed 5,000 bbls. The stock is estimated at about 50,000 do. Wheat is dull at 1,08@1,10 for prime red; and 1,14@ 1,16 for do white. The demand for provisions limited, and sales are mostly in the small way at 8¾@9c for bacon shoulders; 11½@11¾c for rib sides, 13½c for clear do, and $11,75@13c for mess pork. The stock of the latter is about 5,000 bbls. About 3,000 hogs sold to-day for December delivery at $5,50, and $5,62@5,75 for November. The contracts made during the week, as far as heard of, reach 9,000 head.—For new products the market is very dull, there being no demand except at prices below the views of sellers. We quote, for December delivery, mess pork $16,50 bulk meat 6¾ and 8¾c, and barrel lard 10½. These figures are obtainable to some extent, but 50 more is generally asked. There was a sale of 200 tcs lard for December at 10¾c. For November delivery it is held at 10¾c. English meats are held at 8¾c for Cumberland, 8¼ for long rib, 8¾ for short rib, 9¾ for long, and 9¾c for short clear. Some bulk sales could be done at ¼ below the figures quoted. We publish elsewhere the assessor's returns of hogs in 80 counties of Ohio, and 41 counties of Indiana, which show a decrease, as compared with last year, as follows:

Ohio.....	190,196
Indiana.....	211,587
Total	402,357

The total number, however, reported in the eighty counties of the two States, is more than half the whole number usually reported as packed in the entire West. The full returns for Indiana and Ohio will show considerably over three million hogs that were six months old on the 1st of June. Large supplies of corn and high prices for pork will develop enough of these between now and the 1st of February to make the crop long enough. A panic is not to be apprehended in this line.

Chicago Lumber Market.

TUESDAY EVENING, Oct. 16.

The following table shows the receipts of Lumber, Lath, Shingles, during the past week, and since January 1, with comparative statistics:

COMPARATIVE RECEIPTS OF LUMBER, &C.

	Week ending Oct 13.	Since Jan. 1.	Same time 1859.
Lumber, ft.....	10773890	219161745	260954009
Shingles, No.....	1620000	105936500	136156684
Lath, pcs.....	1150000	24290050	42455055
Timber, ft	141000	5010100	8201045
Posts, No.....	208	295003	375704
Pickets, No.....	1000	758360	452455

LUMBER—The receipts of lumber during the past week were again heavy, amounting to 10,773,000 feet. During the corresponding week in 1859 there were 6,727,500 feet, showing a gain of about 4,000,000 feet.

The market for cargoes during the week owing to the liberal supply for some time past, has been buoyant, and cargoes have been sold at an average decline of 50c per thousand feet. In good well assorted cargoes, however, there is no actual depreciation, although they have been rather slow sale at previous prices.

The amount of lumber received from Saginaw, St. Clair River, and ports on Lake Huron, during the past few weeks, has been unusually large; but the stock from these points is now very much reduced, and we will probably receive but little for the balance of the season. Along the shore of Lake Michigan there is considerable lumber to come forward; and where they have run out of logs they are now logging in the woods, and running the logs down to the mills on said roads. There is comparatively little left at Green Bay.

The trade in the yards is restricted on account of the firmness of dealers. Nearly all are holding common boards and dressing firm at $12; and country dealers are buying sparingly at that figure. The demand for upper qualities is quite equal to the supply, and the market is firm at our quotations.

SHINGLES—The stock of Shingles continues low, and the market is very firm. Several cargoes of Rogue River A, 1, has been sold afloat, at $3,25, and some dealers are holding them in the yards at $3,75. Still the sales are principally at $3,50. Sawed shingles are in good request at $2,62@2,75 ₰ M.

CLAPBOARDS—Scarce and in active demand. A lot of 50 cords was sold from the schr. Active a few days since at $12 ₰ cord.

LATH—The supply is light and under a good demand the market is firm. Sales afloat have been made at $2,12½, and in the yards at $2,50.—Press & Tribune.

At the close their were no buyers at the outside prices, and Canadian flour is moderate request at about previous quotations; sales 450 brls at 5,50@7,50 for common to choice extra. SOYER'S SULTANA'S SAUCE.

For Hot and Cold Dishes of all Kinds.

THIS MOST DELICIOUS and appetising Sauce, invented by the renowned Cyon, and for many years the London Reform Club, is, since his decease, manufactured by the well known firm of CROSSE & BLACKWELL, London, from the original recipe in the possession of Mons. Soyer, and sold on the Continent, with the most unbounded reputation among American Epicures, and is much approved of as a relishable to the appetite and aid in digestion.

Opinions of the London Press.

"We recommend our correspondent to try Mons. Soyer's new Sauce, entitled the Sultana Sauce. It is made after the Turkish receipt, and its flavor is excellent, and it affords considerable aid in cases of strong and too moderate requisites."—The Gastronomic Savoyer, Piquant and Spicy, worthy the gourmand's Epicure.—Observer.

RAILWAY MATTERS.

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

The earnings of the Chicago & North-Western Railway for the second week in October were $33,103 89. This is rather a poor show for a Railroad 150 miles long, running through the most fertile section of country in the West—especially when it is considered that the second week in October is the very best week in the year for Western railroads—and proves most conclusively that the North-Western isn't "tapping" the Milwaukee Roads quite as much as its projectors anticipated. It would be interesting to know what proportion of the earnings of the Chicago & North-Western Road was derived from local traffic, and the traffic it obtains from this city. Such an exhibit we fancy would show a rather beggarly "through business"—particularly from N. W. Wisconsin.

The improvement in business is being sensibly felt by the railroads throughout the country, but especially by the great trunk lines. We have the following comparison of earnings for September 1859 and 1860:
